IKT, Estetiska läroprocesser och
Engelska.

Sörgårdens preschool opened in 2011 in new fresh premises and are situated in Krokslätt. At this moment we have got 60 children points and there are nine teachers at the unit. We have left the traditional working methods with separated departments behind us, and instead we work in individualized groups. The whole preschool creates thereby one workteam who works close to each other. Based on this way of working we create smaller teams in three domiciles. We want each child to be met according to their circumstances, needs and interests. That is why we, the teachers, work as an extra researcher along with the children. During the day we are separated in smaller groups so that we more easily can stimulate the children curiosity and learning. Here at Sörgårdens pre-school drama, creativity, music, english and IKT (Information and communications technology) are elements that the children take part in each day. That is why we, based on the Curriculum of the Pre-school Lpfö98, will work with three foundations.

Aesthetic learning processes

In the field of aesthetic learning processes we have chosen to focus on language development, communication, fantasy, creativity and sustainable development. We offer the children possibilities to both individual and with others express them selves thru different aesthetic expressions such as, creativity, drama, music and movement. The children have their own art studio as well as smaller creativity spots throughout the pre-school. Our priority is working with our environment and used materials.

IKT- Information and communications technology

Here at Sörgårdens pre-school we have great access to digital tools. For example we have Smartboard, iPads, computers, digital cameras, iPods and more. We are working to inspire children to be producers rather than consumers.

This means that we allow the children to seek their one knowledge with the help of digital tools together with a friend or a co researcher in form of an teacher. This allows a lot of interaction and communication with each other. It is the children's interests and motivation to learn and search for knowledge that rules our work. The children gains a lot of knowledge from these different digital tools in various learning situations. We focus on language development, communication, aesthetic learning processes and technology.

English

The children are exposed to the english language in different ways at Sörgårdens pre-school. It is the children's interests that affect in which direction our work will take. We see english as an ongoing process and not as a separated subject. We use english in songs, creativity, drama, IKT, games and so on. We focus on language development and internationalization.

Other

We are using blog, movie, photo and text to document what we do. Every child also have their own digital portfolio on Unikum. We constantly work on our learning environment both inside and out on the yard to create as good learning possibilities as we can. You are welcome to contact us if you have any queries or reflections. You are also more than welcome to come and visit our pre-school so that we can tell you more about how we work here at Sörgårdens pre-school! We have special dates with "open house" as you can find on molndal.se
